Sir Hudson Fysh Drive Road Closure Update February 2023

Cloncurry Shire Council wishes to advise that final works will be completed on Sir Hudson Fysh Drive in March 2023. Council is in final negotiations with a Transport and Main Roads accredited regional contractor to complete the works during March 2023.

Based on engineering advice, Sir Hudson Fysh Drive will remain closed to traffic in the meantime, during February 2023. The following road conditions will be implemented until final works are finished.

Date	Roads/Assets Impacted	Road conditions
February – March 2023	Sir Hudson Fysh Drive (Between Carl Katter Bridge and Alice Street)	Closed to traffic except for emergency services, funeral processions and local businesses or residents who enter their properties within the Works Area. Refer to Figure 1.
	Cemetery	Where works restrict access to the Cemetery, alternative access will be via Henry Street.

New contractor arranged

Council and the previous contractor parted ways in late December 2022, following the most recent effort to complete the final sealing of the road.

Project timelines and budget

While the delayed delivery is a source of massive frustration, the project will be delivered within the original project budget.

Council appreciates the community's continued understanding and patience. Should you have any questions or concerns in respect of this matter please contact Council's Chief Executive Officer, Philip Keirle, at this office.
